LEASE SMARTER TAKE CONTROL

You may do everything you can to protect your lease vehicle.
You may go the extra mile to keep your car clean. You abide by your vehicle’s recommended maintenance schedule. You may even park strategically to avoid other vehicles.

But, is it enough?

No matter how hard you try to protect your lease vehicle, things like dings, dents, and scratches are almost inevitable over time.

- A scrape on a bumper
- Damage to a wheel

These are just a few examples of incidents, if within qualifying criteria, that may be excess wear and use on your vehicle.
